

The Weather

Fair today and tomorrow; it will be warmer tomorrow.
(For full weather report see page 4.)

Richmond Times-Dispatch

Complete Markets

Full Associated Press Report

72D YEAR

VOLUME 72
NUMBER 201

Entered January 27, 1905, at the Post-Office at Richmond, Va., as Second-Class Matter.

RICHMOND, VA., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1922. —SIXTEEN PAGES

PRICE, THREE CENTS.

TWO NAVAL FLYERS KILLED IN PLANE CRASH AT NORFOLK

Lieutenants Ericsson and Armstrong Lose Lives in Rebuilt Craft.

FLIGHT WAS TO TEST
STRENGTH OF MACHINE

Accident Occurs Near No. 1
Hangar at Hampton Roads Station.

ANOTHER MISAP IN FLORIDA

Willford Begging Victim When Airplane Fell in Streets of Okeechobee.

(By Associated Press.)

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 26.—Lieutenant Edward Lewis Ericsson, of New York City, and Lieutenant Roger Franklin Armstrong, of Rochester, N. Y., and Norfolk, naval aviators, were killed instantly at 1:17 o'clock this afternoon when a plane crashed to earth with them near No. 1 hangar at the Hampton Roads naval air station. Their bodies are at the Naval Hospital awaiting autopsy.

The badly crushed bodies were dragged from the wreckage by a dozen men who witnessed the fall. The crash occurred at the end of a flight of about 10 minutes, and the plane was seen to be in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

The plane was a "Stuntling" according to men at the station who witnessed the fall. The plane had been in the air only about ten minutes when the crash came.

U. S. Flying Craft Lands on Deck of Man-o-War

(By Associated Press.)

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 26.—The first attempt of a land type flying machine to land on the deck of a man-o-war in the United States was a successful one off the Virginia capes this morning. Lieutenant Commander Godfrey D. C. Chevalier, flying the two-seater A-506, landed on the flight deck of the U. S. S. Langley while the vessel was proceeding at a speed of about 10 knots. A thick, steady wind was blowing from the northwest at the time, and the plane, landing at a velocity of 45 miles an hour, was stopped by the arresting gear within twenty-five feet.

The feat, declared successful in every way by naval authorities aboard the Langley, was the first attempt at landing in vessel. A few weeks ago Commander Chevalier successfully flew from the deck without the aid of a catapult.

The entire maneuver and experiment was under the direction of Captain S. D. Hoyle, commander of the Langley.

Wet Patrons of Dry Ships
Bring Liquor in Personal Baggage.

NO SEIZURE ON SEAS

But Leftover Drinkables Must Be Destroyed at Three-Mile Limit.

(By Universal Service.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—While foreign ships are to be permitted to carry liquor for sale outside the American three-mile limit, pending decision on the Daugherty ship-lift bill, the United States Supreme Court, those who travel American ships must not take themselves with leftover drinkables.

As officials view the situation, dry laws to prevent any passenger taking on board in his personal baggage sufficient liquor to last him to the American three-mile limit. If he overestimates his capacity and has a quart or so left over, it's an easy matter to drop it through a port-hole or over the rail into the sea.

The Treasury has no plan to place inspectors or dry agents in foreign ports or aboard the ships. To undertake this would add an enormous cost to the cost of prohibition enforcement, officials pointed out.

Can Carry His Own Along.

The captain or master of each vessel is responsible, under maritime law, for the enforcement of law and order on board. He is not to permit any liquor to be carried on board, but he is not to expect a sea captain to go smelling around to see which passenger has a bottle in his grip.

After the Supreme Court rules on the Daugherty bill, assuming that it will uphold it, the prohibition party can be expected on foreign vessels, provided they do not come within the three-mile limit.

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 4.)

THIRTEEN HUNDRED CANDIDATES OUT FOR PARLIAMENT

King Dissolves Old Body,
Calls New to Meet
November 20.

NO PARTY IS LIKELY TO OBTAIN MAJORITY

Must Name 315 to Secure Legislative Control in Election.

BONAR LAW FOR TRANQUILITY

New Premier Says Britain Wants to Get Back to Normal Conditions.

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

The country is now without a Parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the new Parliament. The King, at Sandringham, today signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional years since the last election of the House of Commons in 1918.

PARADE OF KNIGHTS HERE IS FORERUNNER OF COMMANDERY MEET

Banner of Organization Waves Gracefully and Proudly Over Richmond—Election and Installation of Officers Takes Place Today.

The banner of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar, waved gracefully and proudly over Richmond yesterday, as hundreds of the Sir
Knights, to the accompanying music of four bands, marched along Franklin Street and Monument Avenue, in a grand procession incidental to the observance of the centenary of the organization in Virginia. Thousands of citizens applauded the Sir Knights as they marched briskly along on the bracing October afternoon.

Every section of the State was represented. The Knights came from the South Side, Piedmont, the Valley, the Southwest, the Northern Neck, and the great Tidewater. Each section was represented by a band, and the grand officers, displayed a marked degree of proficiency in its alignment and its execution of the salute. A great mass of people crowded the avenue in this section, and applause was continuous. Nearly every man in the crowd stood at attention with his head uncovered as the Stars and Stripes passed by, and the martial music sounded above the hurrahs of the crowds, the occasion arose to the heights of a glorious spectacle, with appropriate color, sound and animation.

The parade started promptly at 1:30 o'clock. The line extended practically all along Monument Avenue, and at the counter-march from the Jackson Monument to the Scottish Rite Temple and the Masonic Temple. An entertainment was given at the City Auditorium last night, which (Continued on Page 2, Column 4.) numbers at the various periods. The bands played "Forward Christian Soldier," as they passed the high officers in the reviewing stand.

Headed by Chief Marshal William McK. Evans, the Sir Knights, some of them in the serene and yellow period of life, marched like veterans of the American Legion, and in some instances, the Sir Knights, the John Marshall High School band had to "step high" in order to keep pace. The other bands were the Patrol Band of Acca Temple, Donahoe's Band and the Scottish Band.

Richmond Commandery, No. 2, led the procession, preceded by the Patrol Band. Then came commanderies from Alexandria, Fredericksburg, Lynchburg, Culpeper, Crooke, Petersburg, Staunton, Charlottesville, Clinton Forge, Roanoke, Danville, Norfolk, Newport News, Portsmouth, Winchester, Harrisonburg, Piedmont, Northern Neck, and the Scottish Rite Temple and the Masonic Temple. An entertainment was given at the City Auditorium last night, which (Continued on Page 2, Column 4.)

Prior to the parade a business session of the Grand Commandery, of Washington, D. C., Men prominent in public, professional, commercial and industrial life throughout the State and the District of Columbia were in the line. It was a notable body.

The parade started promptly at 1:30 o'clock. The line extended practically all along Monument Avenue, and at the counter-march from the Jackson Monument to the Scottish Rite Temple and the Masonic Temple. An entertainment was given at the City Auditorium last night, which (Continued on Page 2, Column 4.)

Prior to the parade a business session of the Grand Commandery, of Washington, D. C., Men prominent in public, professional, commercial and industrial life throughout the State and the District of Columbia were in the line. It was a notable body.

The parade started promptly at 1:30 o'clock. The line extended practically all along Monument Avenue, and at the counter-march from the Jackson Monument to the Scottish Rite Temple and the Masonic Temple. An entertainment was given at the City Auditorium last night, which (Continued on Page 2, Column 4.)

Prior to the parade a business session of the Grand Commandery, of Washington, D. C., Men prominent in public, professional, commercial and industrial life throughout the State and the District of Columbia were in the line. It was a notable body.

The parade started promptly at 1:30 o'clock. The line extended practically all along Monument Avenue, and at the counter-march from the Jackson Monument to the Scottish Rite Temple and the Masonic Temple. An entertainment was given at the City Auditorium last night, which (Continued on Page 2, Column 4.)

Prior to the parade a business session of the Grand Commandery, of Washington, D. C., Men prominent in public, professional, commercial and industrial life throughout the State and the District of Columbia were in the line. It was a notable body.

The parade started promptly at 1:30 o'clock. The line extended practically all along Monument Avenue, and at the counter-march from the Jackson Monument to the Scottish Rite Temple and the Masonic Temple. An entertainment was given at the City Auditorium last night, which (Continued on Page 2, Column 4.)

Prior to the parade a business session of the Grand Commandery, of Washington, D. C., Men prominent in public, professional, commercial and industrial life throughout the State and the District of Columbia were in the line. It was a notable body.

The parade started promptly at 1:30 o'clock. The line extended practically all along Monument Avenue, and at the counter-march from the Jackson Monument to the Scottish Rite Temple and the Masonic Temple. An entertainment was given at the City Auditorium last night, which (Continued on Page 2, Column 4.)

Prior to the parade a business session of the Grand Commandery, of Washington, D. C., Men prominent in public, professional, commercial and industrial life throughout the State and the District of Columbia were in the line. It was a notable body.

The parade started promptly at 1:30 o'clock. The line extended practically all along Monument Avenue, and at the counter-march from the Jackson Monument to the Scottish Rite Temple and the Masonic Temple. An entertainment was given at the City Auditorium last night, which (Continued on Page 2, Column 4.)

Prior to the parade a business session of the Grand Commandery, of Washington, D. C., Men prominent in public, professional, commercial and industrial life throughout the State and the District of Columbia were in the line. It was a notable body.

The parade started promptly at 1:30 o'clock. The line extended practically all along Monument Avenue, and at the counter-march from the Jackson Monument to the Scottish Rite Temple and the Masonic Temple. An entertainment was given at the City Auditorium last night, which (Continued on Page 2, Column 4.)

Prior to the parade a business session of the Grand Commandery, of Washington, D. C., Men prominent in public, professional, commercial and industrial life throughout the State and the District of Columbia were in the line. It was a notable body.

The parade started promptly at 1:30 o'clock. The line extended practically all along Monument Avenue, and at the counter-march from the Jackson Monument to the Scottish Rite Temple and the Masonic Temple. An entertainment was given at the City Auditorium last night, which (Continued on Page 2, Column 4.)

Prior to the parade a business session of the Grand Commandery, of Washington, D. C., Men prominent in public, professional, commercial and industrial life throughout the State and the District of Columbia were in the line. It was a notable body.

The parade started promptly at 1:30 o'clock. The line extended practically all along Monument Avenue, and at the counter-march from the Jackson Monument to the Scottish Rite Temple and the Masonic Temple. An entertainment was given at the City Auditorium last night, which (Continued on Page 2, Column 4.)

Prior to the parade a business session of the Grand Commandery, of Washington, D. C., Men prominent in public, professional, commercial and industrial life throughout the State and the District of Columbia were in the line. It was a notable body.

The parade started promptly at 1:30 o'clock. The line extended practically all along Monument Avenue, and at the counter-march from the Jackson Monument to the Scottish Rite Temple and the Masonic Temple. An entertainment was given at the City Auditorium last night, which (Continued on Page 2, Column 4.)

AMERICA INVITED TO PARTICIPATE IN NEAR EAST PARLEY

Powers Ask United States to Send Delegate to Conference.

ELEVEN GOVERNMENTS
ASKED TO TAKE PART

Washington View Is That This Country Will Not Comply.

CONTINUE TO STAND ALONE

State Department, However, to Stand on Original Turkish Pronouncement.

(By Associated Press.)

PARIS, Oct. 26.—France, Italy and Great Britain have agreed to invite the United States to participate officially in the Near East peace conference at Lausanne, Switzerland, November 15.

The suggestion that the United States not invited came from Lord Curzon, the British Secretary for Foreign Affairs. The invitation will be handed to the State Department in Washington, probably tomorrow, by the French, British and Italian ambassadors.

Eleven invitations will be issued in all to the United States, Turkey, Greece, France, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Jugoslavia and Rumania for the peace conference, and to the Soviet Russian and Bulgarian governments to take part in the discussion of the question of the Dardanelles.

WASHINGTON TO HAVE AN UNOFFICIAL OBSERVER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The United States probably will be represented at the Near East peace conference by an unofficial observer. There is virtually no chance that the Washington government will participate directly in the conference, however, or be a signatory of the treaty of peace to be evolved.

Decision of allied governments to invite American participation as a party to the peace negotiation, it can be said on authority, finds the attitude of the Washington government unchanged. While the reply to the invitation has not been formulated, only after it has been received, probably tomorrow, there is no reason to doubt the nature of the American policy of standing aloof from European political tangles and of confining itself strictly to questions in which it has a direct interest, connected with the Turkish straits, has undergone no change.

Can Take No Direct Share.

Part dispatches indicate that the invitation is to be presented to Secretary Hughes, through the British, French and Italian ambassadors in Washington. That it will be met with appreciation is probable, but it is not probable that the United States share in the difficult task before the allied powers is to be expected. At the same time, however, the ambassadors will be very fully advised that as a nonbelligerent in the war, the United States has no direct share in the peace conference to bring that war to an end.

Cannot Stand Wholly Aside.

American interests are too deeply involved in the final solution of the problem of the Turkish straits, however, and also in the immunities that American citizens shall enjoy in Turkish territory, both in commercial and religious matters, to permit the Washington government to stand wholly aside from the peace parley. Secretary Hughes made this plain recently during the most tense moments of the Near Eastern crisis, when he refused to discuss in any way any political questions involved, but declared that American policy demanded freedom of the straits and adequate protection of racial and religious minorities in Turkish territory.

It can be said authoritatively that the American viewpoint is still summed up in the decision to invite active participation in the peace conference by the United States has not affected that attitude.

WOMAN BEATEN WITH GUN; IS BURIED ALIVE

(By Associated Press.)

CLEVELAND, Oct. 26.—Mrs. Hazel Burns, 29, whose body badly mangled was found buried in a shallow grave near Painesville, Wednesday, died from suffocation and strangulation, Lake County authorities announced tonight, following a post mortem examination of the body.

Mrs. Burns was not shot, but was beaten with the butt of a small caliber revolver, and then buried alive in a shallow grave in a marsh. The authorities are still in a shallow grave near Painesville, Wednesday, died from suffocation and strangulation, Lake County authorities announced tonight, following a post mortem examination of the body.

Mrs. Burns was not shot, but was beaten with the butt of a small caliber revolver, and then buried alive in a shallow grave in a marsh. The authorities are still in a shallow grave near Painesville, Wednesday, died from suffocation and strangulation, Lake County authorities announced tonight, following a post mortem examination of the body.

Mrs. Burns was not shot, but was beaten with the butt of a small caliber revolver, and then buried alive in a shallow grave in a marsh. The authorities are still in a shallow grave near Painesville, Wednesday, died from suffocation and strangulation, Lake County authorities announced tonight, following a post mortem examination of the body.

Mrs. Burns was not shot, but was beaten with the butt of a small caliber revolver, and then buried alive in a shallow grave in a marsh. The authorities are still in a shallow grave near Painesville, Wednesday, died from suffocation and strangulation, Lake County authorities announced tonight, following a post mortem examination of the body.

Harrison President of Memorial Body

(By Associated Press.)

DECATUR, Ga., Oct. 26.—Fairfax Harrison, president of the Stone Mountain Memorial Association, according to announcement today at the closing session of the State convention here, presented the United Daughters of the Confederacy, by Mrs. T. T. Stevens, vice-president. Mrs. Stevens is in charge of the Stone Mountain project, which calls for the carving of figures 45 feet high in the side of the gigantic mountain of stone memorializing the soldiers of the Confederate army.

The convention voted to suggest to the memorial association that in order to get the work going and produce something tangible at once, the larger plan of the monument be placed for the present to the figures first of General Lee, General Jackson and Jefferson Davis.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

DETECTIVES TEST MURDER STORY OF WOMAN WITNESS

Visit Farm and Go Carefully Over Ground Mentioned by Mrs. Gibson.

CERTAIN RECOGNITION OF SUSPECT POSSIBLE

Feeling Strong in New Brunswick That Arrests Are Imminent.

COUNSEL ISSUES STATEMENT

Attorney for Mrs. Hall Denies Rector's Wife Was Present at Shyness.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 26.—The dramatic story of a woman farmer that she had witnessed the Hall-Miller murder and had identified both the slayer and a woman who accompanied him today electrified New Brunswick.

About six weeks ago the bodies of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, a singer in his choir, were found under a crab apple tree on the Phillips farm.

Since then, conflicting theories and counter-theories, arrested a World War veteran and turned him loose, indicated that further arrests would be made, denied it the next, and all the time one of the most intricate murder mysteries that has engaged the interest of the country in years has gone unsolved.

Feeling Strong in New Brunswick.

Now, with the full story made public of the woman farmer—Mrs. Jane Gibson—the feeling was strong in New Brunswick tonight that the denouement was approaching fast.